Just a quick look at some funny stuff people have sent in to me over the last week.

First, you have to watch this hilarious 1 minute clip of an old woman sticking it to an obnoxious motorist that Aaron Naparstek pointed out. Lesson? Don't mess with Granny!

Then, check out this solution to the NYC parking space issue.

Yeah, "Unlimited Space" and I have a bridge to sell you...

...I think this entrance leads directly to some sort of strange automobile purgatory where You forever circle the lot looking for the "best spot" - there is unlimited parking space and you can't help but feel a better spot is just around the corner.

Keep forwarding these in, I love this stuff. Technorati Profile
